Why are Ferrero recalling the products?

Ferrero are voluntarily recalling selected batches of Kinder Surprise & Mini Eggs as a precautionary step since they have become aware of a possible link to several reported cases of salmonella.

What should I do if I have purchased an affected product?

Ferrero are advising consumers who have purchased any of the relevant products not to consume them but instead to please keep the product and contact their consumer care team on:

Consumers.uk@ferrero.com or 03300538943 UK or (0)3300538943 IRL

Alternatively, customers can return the affected products to their nearest One Stop store. No receipt needed.

Are any other Ferrero products affected?

No other Ferrero products are known to be affected.

Will I become ill if I've already eaten the product?

If you have eaten the affected product very recently and feel unwell, we recommend you consult your GP.
